Quake-Shattered Alaskans Prepare For Rebuilding

ANCHORAGE, April 2 (UPI) — While President Johnson worked today on plans to help Alaska, residents of the earthquake-shattered 49th state preceded with plans to help themselves. Gov. William A. Egan proposed that the state double its entire public debt—to $400 for every man, woman and child in the state—to help pay the cost of rebuilding. In Washington, President Johnson was moving on two fronts to provide federal aid. He named a special commission Wednesday night to draft long-range aid for Alaska, and announced at the same time that he would ask congress for 50 million dollars for immediate relief.

Slain Idahoan Lauded for Rights Work

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—A former Lewiston resident has been elected by a Harlem Negro minister as a man who "did more for integration as an individual than any other Negro in the city because he lived with us."

The eulogy was delivered Wednesday night at funeral services for blood, blue-eyed David Watts, 29, who lived seven years with his Negro neighbors until slain by a mugger a week ago.

"We didn't expect him to live in Harlem," the Rev. Thomas Hughes told a large crowd at the funeral Sabbath church.

"But we discovered he was not a fraud. He was without guile. He got along well with Negro children and took some to the movies, and sat on curbstones telling them Bible stories."

"He went about Harlem like a missionary, doing Bible studies and talking to people, melting antagonism and hatred."

Watts was stabbed and robbed March 23 in the Bronx.

He lived in a room in the heart of Harlem and attended the Advent church each Saturday with 75 Negroes.

He worked for two years as a 50-a-week porter and errand boy for a printing company but had been laid off a week before his death.

Lodge Is Now Rockefeller's Chief Target

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2 (AP)—Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge has become the chief target of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in the battle for the Republican nomination for president.

Brushing aside Lodge's repeated statements that he is not a candidate and does not intend to become one, Rockefeller said today that Lodge "is running and running hard from the privileged sanctuary of diplomatic immunity."

The New York governor maintained in an interview that Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, was "a part of the democratic administration and is a candidate for the GOP nomination who is working from out there very hard."

The statements were Rockefeller's sharpest criticism to date of the ambassador.

MacArthur's Condition Is 'Waning'

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur has suffered a "further waning" of his heart and kidney function, Walter Reed army hospital announced today.

A bulletin at 10:15 a.m. said continuing deterioration of the five-star general's kidney function has necessitated institution of a semi-artificial means of stimulating kidney function.

The technique involves making two incisions in MacArthur's abdomen and inserting two tubes. The purpose is to attempt to draw from the general's blood poisonous materials which cannot be efficiently filtered out by his own faltering kidney system.

The procedure is technically known as "peritoneal dialysis." It involves continuous running of liquid chemicals, somewhat similar to those used by the kidneys, through one of the tubes to a cavity between two blood-filled membranes within the abdomen which are known as the "peritoneum."

The resulting products are pumped out through the other tube.

The new downturn followed a terse and gloomy report from the doctors Wednesday that the outlook was not good.

Goulart Is Shorn Of Presidency, New Leader Named

RIO DE JANEIRO, April 2 (AP)—Congress declared Joao Goulart shorn of the presidency today and he was reported fleeing from the country, bowing to a two-day rebellion by anti-communist generals. Paschoal Ranieri Mazzilli was sworn in as president. Wednesday night Goulart fled to his home state in southern Brazil and from Porto Alegre defiantly called the action by congress a farce, declared himself still president and predicted a popular reaction against the generals. Today a broadcast heard in Argentina quoted the mayor of Porto Alegre as saying Goulart has decided not to resist, because he wanted to avoid bloodshed.

GOP Has New Faces In Congress Race

By The Associated Press
Republicans had two new faces in the lineup of 1964 congressional candidates today, State Sen. Dick Smith, R., Madison, in the second district and Kellogg realtor John Mattmiller in the first. Smith, 38-year-old Rexburg wheat rancher and two-term senator, is making a congressional race for the first time. Mattmiller, 42, president of the Idaho Association of Realtors, is taking his first crack at politics. Smith called for less federal government regulation and control of basic Idaho industries, more reliance on state and local governments, and less deficit spending in announcing his candidacy Wednesday night at Rexburg.

"I, like most Idahoans, have been disappointed in our representation in the house of representatives in Washington these past three years," said Smith.

"Too frequently the time of our congressman has been consumed with matters totally unrelated to his congressional duties."

Mattmiller said Idaho lacks and needs "congressional representation independent of vested interests, both political and economic."

"The people of the first congressional district deserve a choice, where lines may be distinctly drawn, between those who stand for centralizing control and those who stand for maximum local control and the responsibility of the individual to make the best use of his gifts."

Smith announced opposition to the second district nomination of Keith Schofield, Boise. He said he was another Idahoan who had been disappointed in the legislative process.

Schofield said he was "delighted to have another good man in the race."

"During the primary we will engage in a sparring practice to sharpen up our technique and then be prepared to defeat congressman Harding in November."

Mattmiller is the first Republican to announce in the first district. Erwin Schleibert, Caldwell, the 1962 nominee, said if someone from north Idaho entered the race it was unlikely he would run.

RIO DE JANEIRO, April 2 (AP)—Congress declared Joao Goulart shorn of the presidency today and he was reported fleeing from the country, bowing to a two-day rebellion by anti-communist generals. Paschoal Ranieri Mazzilli was sworn in as president. Wednesday night Goulart fled to his home state in southern Brazil and from Porto Alegre defiantly called the action by congress a farce, declared himself still president and predicted a popular reaction against the generals. Today a broadcast heard in Argentina quoted the mayor of Porto Alegre as saying Goulart has decided not to resist, because he wanted to avoid bloodshed.

An Argentine foreign ministry official said he had word that Goulart would seek asylum in Montevideo, Uruguay.

A radio station in Porto Alegre called "Chain for Legality" went on the air shortly before noon and Rio de Janeiro took that to mean Goulart resistance there had been broken. The station had been broadcasting support for Goulart.

Another station in Sao Paulo began announcing that the vanguard of the anti-Goulart third army from Santa Maria and five other points was converging in Porto Alegre.

Reports circulated that Gen. Amaury Kruehl, leader of the revolt against Goulart's leftist policies, had sent this ultimatum to the third army commander at Porto Alegre:

"Surrender forces guarding Goulart or face an invasion. There was no official confirmation."

Appearing calm, Goulart talked with reporters a few hours after congress at the inland capital of Brasilia installed Paschoal Ranieri Mazzilli as the new president. As president of the chamber of deputies, Mazzilli was next in line of succession to the presidency.

There also were reports that Gov. Ildo Meneghetti of Goulart's home state of Rio Grande do Sul, was marching on Porto Alegre, the state capital, with 5,000 military-trained state police. Meneghetti fled from Porto Alegre and joined the rebellion when the third army demanded he surrender his state troops Wednesday.

In Rio de Janeiro, the vanguard of revolutionary troops who launched the uprising Tuesday in the big state of Minas Gerais, marched into the city. They were reviewed by Gov. Carlos Lagoa of Guanabara State, arch foe of Goulart.

Goulart fled from Rio de Janeiro as rebel army units and civilian militiamen marched on the city Wednesday, vowing to force him from office and lift "the red yoke" from Brazil.

Highs today 34-44, Friday in the 40s; lows tonight 18-24, except near sea over Camas prairie. Outlook for Saturday 18-24, except near sea over Camas prairie. Temperatures at 8 a.m.: 29 at J. P. T. At the surface, higher pressure is moving eastward from the Pacific and will be bringing clearing skies tonight and Friday over the valleys of southern Idaho. In the upper levels, low pressure is occupying the Intermountain region and causing some scattered cloudiness over these valleys today, but higher pressure aloft moving onto the western coastal states will aid the clearing trend.

Below normal temperatures will remain today and Friday, although some warming will occur with clear skies and the movement of warmer air into these valleys. The next Pacific storm system is moving into the Gulf of Alaska but the buildup of high pressure into this area during the next two days will push the main system to the north, with cloudiness increasing over southern Idaho on Saturday.

The greatest amount of precipitation recorded during the past 24 hours in the valleys of southern Idaho was from the north side in Magic Valley, where Gooding reported 4.1 of an inch, Fairfield 3.5 of an inch and Jerome 3.2 of an inch. The remainder of the reports from valley stations generally were less than 1.0 of an inch. Precipitation in the form of rain yesterday caused snow cover on some high peaks to lower considerably. At Fairfield, six inches of snow on the ground was lost due to this rainfall. Low temperatures today and lower temperatures tonight will slow this melt again.

Temperatures today and Friday will range in the 40s to mid 50s in southern valleys. Minimum temperatures tonight will be lower, causing minimums in Camas prairie to fall back down to around zero. Minimum temperatures in the 20s will be the rule in the southern valleys.

30-DAY OUTLOOK
The mean pressure pattern aloft through April shows the area along the West Coast and onto the coastal states as being favorable to the location of low pressure. Slightly higher pressure is expected over the Rocky Mountains.

These pressure patterns are favorable to a continued flow of cooler air into the Intermountain region and to periods of daytime cloudiness as storms move into southern Idaho. As a result, temperatures during April over the valleys of southern Idaho will average from three to six degrees below normal. Daytime temperatures, rather than nighttime temperatures, will continue to show the greater departure below normal. Normal maximum temperatures for April range from the mid to upper 50s the first of the month in southern valleys, to the mid to upper 60s by the end of the month. Normal minimum temperatures range from the low 30s to upper 30s from the first to last of the month in southern valleys. Pacific storm systems will be favored during much of April to pass across southern Idaho. Precipitation will be mostly in the form of light rain or rain showers. Precipitation totals will range from 1.0 inches to 1.8 inches during the month.

Soil temperatures at the three to eight-inch depth will continue to make slow gains in their annual advance, with temperatures rising from the 40s the first of the month into the 50s and possible low 60s by the end of the month.

Farming activities will be on the increase as the month progresses, with early crop planting and seeding chains, but cold and wet weather at the end of April will be a delaying factor to agricultural interests in these valleys.

WEATHER RESUME FOR MARCH

Although the weather for March did not set any new records, it still was a cold and rather dry month. Mean temperatures during March in Magic Valley averaged from five to eight degrees below normal. This makes the third straight month that average temperatures have been below normal. Jerome had the greatest negative departure from normal of 8.1 degrees, while Twin Falls had the smallest negative departure of 5.4 degrees. Maximum temperatures showed greater departures below normal than did minimum temperatures. At most stations in Magic Valley daily maximum temperatures were below normal throughout March until the last two or three days.

Precipitation was from one-third to one-half an inch below normal at all reporting stations. Rupert recorded 4.70 of an inch for the greatest monthly total and Buhl had 4.28 for the smallest monthly total. Precipitation fell in the form of snow and snow showers, but snow on the ground did not remain long south of the river. On the north side the month was overcast during the month with only the extreme northern area having any great snow depth on the ground by month's end.

Soil temperatures continued to lay well behind a year ago and showed little gain during the month. The warming trend the last week of the month was a typical rise in soil temperatures with a three-day jump in three days noted at the four-inch depth. The last day of the month showed temperatures at the 38-inch depth beginning to respond to this heating by rising up to the normal mark.

Twin Falls climate during March, 1964: Average maximum temperature, 43.5; 8.5 degrees below normal; average minimum temperature, 25.5; 2.5 degrees below normal; and mean temperature, 34.5 degrees below normal. There were 30 days with 64.7 of an inch, 6.37 of an inch below normal. There were 12 days with minimum temperatures below 33 degrees. Total precipitation was with 0.1 of an inch of snow precipitation. There were 12 clear days, eight partly cloudy days and 11 cloudy days. Prevailing wind direction was west.

There have been three colder March months on record—1917, 1923 and 1952.

Shelters in Basements Are Urged

RICHFIELD, April 2—Basement civil defense shelters in each home were advised for Lincoln county residents in films and government reports shown to the 75 persons attending the Tuesday night class at Richfield.

The government survey lists no safe, large scale shelters available in Lincoln county at present.

Carl Kinney, instructor for the adult education class the past month, reviewed approximate amount of protection afforded by various types of homes in case of atomic attack. Basement homes were the only ones listed offering any degree of protection. Shelters were unreservedly advised.

Biological and chemical warfare agents, detection and prevention or control measures were discussed, and government material was distributed for study.

The final civil defense instruction class of the series will be held Tuesday night at the high school. Richfield Lions club has sponsored the sessions and served light refreshments at the end of each class period. Edward Schlusser and Leola Bushby were hosts this week.

Udall, speaking at the Outdoor Recreation congress for the Greater Pacific Northwest, said that government alone cannot do the job.

"It is a paradox that so many bankers and businessmen and other individuals seem content to leave so much of the initiative for the fast expanding economic boom — to the government," Udall said.

Communist Gets Death Sentence In Cuban Court

MIAMI, Fla., April 2 (AP)—The Cuban supreme court sentenced a communist man to death Wednesday in the climax of a trial that made public an apparent split in Cuba's communist party.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro testified for 4 1/2 hours during the trial and accused the defendant as charged. Castro scolded old-line communists but in the end called for unity.

The verdict, announced by Havana radio, amounted in Miami, seemed to have no bearing on the outcome of the apparent party fight since Castro was believed to have been trying to maintain unity.

The man, Marcos Rodriguez Alfonso, 26, was convicted of betraying four revolutionaries to police during the regime of Fulgencio Batista. The four were killed in Havana in 1957.

President Stands Firm On Rights Bill

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—President Johnson apparently is giving his legislative lieutenants little room to maneuver toward any compromise that might insure passage of the civil rights bill.

The President was described by close associates today as being hard-rock firm against any changes in the house-passed measure. They said he has maintained this attitude in private strategy conferences as well as in his public statements.

Johnson, an expert on how to get things done in the senate, is said to have told the bill's managers they should plan for eventual around-the-clock sessions in an attempt to break a Southern filibuster.

The President reportedly has little hope that Dixie opponents will ever permit passage of the legislation without the invoking of the cloture rule. This means that two-thirds of those voting would have to approve applying a debate limitation.

Therein lies the dilemma of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D., Minn., floor manager for the bill, and the Democrats and Republicans who are voting his efforts to bring it to a vote.

There is no practical way — and Johnson is the first to admit it — of getting the necessary two-thirds vote unless Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois is willing to go along.

Dirksen wants some changes in vital sections of the bill. He has said he will propose about a dozen amendments to the bill to change the fair employment practices but has no wish to "emasculate" it.

He also is expected to offer a substitute to section banning racial discrimination in hotels, motels, restaurants, theaters, gas stations and sports stadiums. He has not spelled out his proposal yet.

Dirksen said he has substantial Republican support for efforts to change the fair employment section. He has not tested the GOP temper on the public accommodations section.

But the Republican leader has predicted flatly that before any bill is passed it will be amended. He has left the impression that he and Republicans who follow him on the matter will not be willing to support cloture unless it is.

If all senators were present, approval would be needed to curb a filibuster. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D., Pa., said Wednesday proponents can rally only 58 votes at this time.

True Recognition

Some Idahoans may have thought it rather strange that Sen. Frank Church, a prominent Democrat, should speak about the late Sen. William E. Borah, perhaps the most prominent Republican ever to hold an Idaho office. The occasion was a Borah foundation lecture at the University of Idaho on March 26. Senator Church's talk was entitled, "The role of Borah in American foreign policy." The politics of the two men differ and Senator Church never knew the late Senator Borah.

Yet there was ample reason for Senator Church to pay tribute to Senator Borah. The "Lion of Idaho" was chairman for many years of the senate foreign relations committee, of which Senator Church is now a member. And admiration and respect for Senator Borah—both in life and death—was never confined by political party lines. Even before he died, it could have been said of Senator Borah that he was an Idaho tradition, a status accorded few men.

Although known widely as "the great isolationist," Senator Borah took exception to the label from time to time. As Senator Church pointed out in his talk, "He insisted that the only way in which he was an isolationist was that he sought to isolate America from war."

"But there was no way, as we were later to discover, that America could be isolated from war," Senator Church continued. "Two years after Borah's death, on Dec. 7, 1941, the Japanese bombing of Pearl Harbor brought home the hard truth that, in a world engulfed by war, we could not preserve our own peace."

Perhaps, "In a world engulfed by war," the U. S. never could remain on the sidelines. But one wonders now if this nation hasn't taken a leaf from history, striving for world peace by remaining strong militarily. It's just the opposite course advocated by Senator Borah who believed war could be outlawed: "But you will say, war may come. So it may. But if it comes, let it come as an outlaw in violation of peace treaties and in violation of international law, and not under a sanction and by the authority and with the blessings of the advocates of peace."

Today, the world cannot permit itself the luxury of depending on treaties and international law to preserve peace. Senator Borah never lived long enough to realize the full deceit of communism or to learn that communists respect treaties only so long as treaties serve their own purposes. Senator Borah never lived to know that arms reduction without proper safeguards could be the same thing as surrender.

Now this nation has virtually turned its back on treaties and disarmament as a means of guaranteeing world peace. True, the talk toward disarmament continues, but the nation's citizens are completely aware that no disarmament is possible without the proper safeguards against cheating. It's the earmark of an age in which everyone must deal with communism.

It remains to be seen whether a position of military strength in this nuclear age can bring world peace. Ancient Romans used the same principal of overwhelming military strength to maintain peace in their world for 400 years. Would the same principle have the same result now?

There can be no argument that the better route to peace would be through Senator Borah's outlawry of war and disarmament. At the same time it would be folly to disregard reality. For the time being, the U. S. seems to be following a realistic course of maintaining sufficient strength to prevent a big war while at the same time probing the possibility of peace through less militant avenues.

As Senator Church said at the University of Idaho, "Who now would argue that Borah was wrong in attempting to find a substitute for force in the settlement of disputes between nations? His method may have been defective, but his instinct against the folly of war was true. War was bad enough in Borah's time; it has become incalculably worse since the advent of nuclear weapons. Borah was groping for a way to eliminate war. In this, he was not behind his times, but ahead of them."

What greater tribute could be paid a man than to declare, almost a quarter of a century after his death, that he was ahead of his times? Senator Church expressed it quite well.

IT MIGHT HURT

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller might get hurt more in his home state of New York than anywhere else this year. He has been fighting an uphill battle to overcome adverse publicity resulting from his divorce and remarriage.

Now the New York legislature has rejected Governor Rockefeller's proposal for liquor law reform. Rockefeller had fought hard for the reforms, making it a matter of personal prestige. So he plans to call a special session in mid-April.

Legislatures have a way of rebelling when the executive branch of state government tries to force some sort of action. Governor Rockefeller should keep that in mind.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

(Editor's note: Twice since Mr. Tully wrote this have notice on spring. Washington has found itself with several inches of heavy, wet, white spring-on-the-ground.)

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, April 2—Anybody care if I take time out from politicians and diplomats today and make love to something called spring in Washington? Like any dame worth her salt, spring has kept me waiting but she seems to be here at last, give or take an occasional snow flurry, and all is forgiven.

In Washington, spring usually consists of a series of shocks, but between times there are the days no millionaire could buy, days when it is sheer delight merely to walk on the sidewalk or, even, pay a bill. On such days, like the poet, I take time out from my hand and murmur, "Come, gentle spring! Ethereal mildness come."

FRAGRANCE IN THE AIR—Because something wonderful named spring has arrived, things don't seem as bad as they were a few weeks ago. To be sure, Nikita Khrushchev and Fidel Castro are still with us, and political speeches, but en route to dealing with these problems a man can stoop and examine a daffodil, or cut through the park and feel the soft, moist greenness of new grass under his feet.

Hurrying to work, even on a busy city street, man is happily aware of spring's presence. He feels it in the air like bouquets of the air, in the scampy breezes, and in the fresh paint with which nature has adorned herself. April can be capricious, but it remains spring's month, and after a day of sleet it can warm itself back into a man's good graces with the sudden caress of its warming zephyrs, the perfume of its fragrant breath.

SPRING-AND BASEBALL—What has happened, of course, is that we have at last reached that point when the North Pole no longer is leaning away from the sun, and each day it leans nearer. The process insures that eventually the weather will be warmer, the days sunnier, the landscape brighter. Shortly, too, in the words of another poet, spring will "unlock the flowers to paint the laughing soil."

Spring is the finest time of the year to go to a ball game or to the theater or to the movies to stand in the open doorway and breathe. Girls are prettier in spring, their winter coats relegated to the closet to be replaced by the soft colors of the season. In the spring, it is still fun to work on that lawn, or to clip a hedge or turn the black soil with a spade. And its sunlit hours remind the unwilling schoolboy that release from his blackboard prison is just around the corner.

WORLD PROBLEMS FADE—In the spring, no man can be quite so fearful of the Big Bomb. The warnings of the political outcasts that the country is going to hell seem somehow less dire. Who's afraid of inflation sitting on a bench in the middle of a little forest of cherry blossoms?

As Henry Thoreau once wrote, spring is a special time "with that nameless pathos in the air which dwells with all things fair." It is the sweetest and gentlest and most unpredictably feminine of all the seasons, and I intend forthwith to stop writing about it and start enjoying it.

Views of Others

Idaho's congressional re-districting issue has novel political implications.

Idahoans have noticed that Cong. Compton White from North Idaho has been charging around like Don Quixote chasing windmills to delude any move to conduct this year's election on an at-large basis.

Cong. Ralph Harding, while he points out that campaigning on an at-large basis is un-American, he also points out that a candidate, has not been militant about it.

The reason is that Cong. Compton White stands to lose by an at-large election while Congressman Harding, who is exposed to the more Republican oriented southern Idaho voting bloc, stands to pick up new votes from the predominantly Democratic stronghold in North Idaho.

Gov. Robert Smylie's solution appears the best for the present—call a special session to redistrict the state. A federal court response to a suit that Idaho's present congressional districts are constitutionally disproportionate. Otherwise, Idaho would likely be forced to run on an at-large basis until the 1985 session got around to putting more population balance in the two Idaho districts.

If Governor Smylie calls a special session to consider a new water development program for the state, he might as well put re-districting on the agenda, too. In fact, as this newspaper has said before, there is ample reason for expanding the special session agenda to several other important objectives.

Sen. Jack Murphy, Republican senate leader from Lincoln county, pointed out this week that he can't see how a special session will accomplish redistricting in a few days when it couldn't make the same decision in a full session.

But Senator Murphy forgets there is more urgency to the question now... some strange political urgencies, too, on both sides of the political fence.—Idaho Falls Post Register.

CANADIAN LESSON
The New Canadian budget presented by Finance Minister Walter I. Gordon rescinds the restrictions on foreign capital proposed only a few days ago.

Mr. Gordon had sought increased Canadian control over industry, but he now acknowledges that extra penalties on foreign investment only invited retaliation and threatened to impede the nation's growth. He says he will now count on the cooperation of foreign firms in Canada to make greater use of Canadian materials and to develop export markets that can provide both foreign earnings and more jobs.

This in an encouraging and constructive change in policy. Canada, the most developed of the developing nations, helped to inflame the forces of economic nationalism by seeking to penalize foreign capital. In reversing his position, Mr. Gordon is conceding that Canada itself would be hurt the most by this process. The government could not hope to realize its objective of economic expansion as long as it was pursuing a policy of economic discrimination.

As a nation with both human and material resources, Canada is in a position that most nations must go to it alone. Yet it recognizes that interdependence and fair treatment for all investors are the only sure course for sustaining economic prosperity. It is a key lesson for any country in the throes of development.—New York Times.

(Or a Fireman)

Dear Pot Shots:
This is just a note to thank the three firemen who came to my rescue—rather, to my parakeet's rescue. He accidentally got out of his cage the other day, while enjoying the sun outside, and flew into the neighbor's tree.

As I am not very skilled at climbing trees, I called the fire department. They arrived shortly after, fire truck and all. One of them climbed right up and got him, but on the way down, the poor fellow nearly fell out of the tree because Pickle bit him so hard on the thumb.

He wasn't very grateful, I suppose, for being removed from such a nice, spacious tree and put back in his cage.

But I am very happy to have him back and I am grateful to the fireman (and I hope his thumb is okay.)

WRONG SHAPE?

Dear Pops:
With all the many gendarmes frequenting the Five Points west area daily, how come not one of them has recognized the erroneous shape of the "yield right of way" sign on the corner of Main and Washington?

This sign is really the marker shaped like one designated as a roadside rest, historical marker, or viewpoint in the Idaho Driver's Manual. This is also one of the signs one is supposed to be familiar with in case of being obscured by ice, snow, etc., or you are too far away to read them accurately.

It is bad enough for the tourists to come to town and go the wrong way on Main, but now to confuse them with that sign, they will spend all day driving around for a park, or a picnic bench, or what have you.

How's about this? Who goofed?

NO FINER GIFT

Pot Shots:
One day, while browsing in a place where Bibles are sold, I observed a lady who was choosing a Bible to purchase. The brightness that shone in Mary's eyes at Jesus' resurrection could not have exceeded that of hers as she announced, "My husband wants a Bible for an Easter gift for his mother."

She purchased the Bible and it cost $14. The love, the selfishness, the peace and joy that she expressed! Everyone there was uplifted.

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

World Corners

BY PHIL NEWSOM
(UPI Foreign News Analyst)

A little short of a year ago, Cambodia's unpredictable chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, declared in an interview that "the real interest of Cambodia is not to have the North Vietnamese, at our door... we do fear South Viet Nam, but we fear North Viet Nam much more."

Now, whatever his fears, Sihanouk, by his own words, is contemplating diplomatic recognition of communist North Viet Nam.

It was typical of Sihanouk's diplomatic gyrations that a few minutes later he also was talking of renewed contact with South Viet Nam. But the facts are that since November Sihanouk has been moving steadily closer to the communist orbit.

Carried to their logical conclusion these actions vastly could complicate U. S. objectives in neighboring Laos and South Viet Nam.

They are a reflection of Sihanouk's seeming conviction that U. S. efforts in South Viet Nam already are doomed, and one of the most hysterical belief that his borders are threatened both by South Viet Nam and Thailand.

It was last Nov. 19 that Sihanouk announced he was rejecting approximately 30 million dollars a year in U. S. economic and military aid on charges that the U. S. central intelligence agency was plotting his ouster.

More recently he has accused the United States of joining with South Viet Nam and Thailand in a plot to partition Cambodia and rejected a U. S. proposal that Cambodia set up joint commissions to demarcate disputed borders.

As anti-American mobs sacked both the United States and British embassies recently in the Cambodian capital of Phnom Penh, Sihanouk announced he would turn to Communist China for guarantees of Cambodian North Viet Nam and the communist-ruled Pathet Lao for guarantees of his borders.

The Pathet Lao and the communist North Vietnamese, he said, were the "future masters of Viet Nam and Laos."

The puzzle was that North Viet Nam has no common border with Cambodia which does border on South Viet Nam, Laos and Thailand.

His announcement, therefore, suggested that by recognizing the Hanoi government of North Viet Nam he also was recognizing it as the capital of all Viet Nam.

And, while Sihanouk insisted that Cambodia would remain "strictly neutral and non-aligned" between the communist and non-communist worlds, he aroused natural suspicions that the communists thus would find new supply routes to their forces in South Viet Nam.

Sihanouk's recognition of Pathet Lao forces, further, would render much more difficult Western hopes for maintaining a neutral regime there.

Altogether, these have been trying days for U. S. policies in Southeast Asia.

Significantly, Sihanouk did not include France in the "hostile free world," a happy circumstance for President Charles de Gaulle's intentions of re-establishing French influence in Southeast Asia. Happily also for Red China which has endorsed Cambodia's "just patriotic struggle" against the "imperialist United States."

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY J. TAYLOR
It's hard for any newsmen to confess that the great news of the world is seldom the news of the moment. But never was this more true than today.

We reporters will give way to historians who one day will not even separate World War I and World War II. In history's span, how can you separate two events only 20 years apart? The cracking of the atom in our early 1940's era will receive far more notice. But the truly great story of this century is man himself emerging in a new, incredible phenomenon dating earlier than many a car still running on our roads.

The so-called Zinzi archaologists recently found in Africa's Tanganyika establishes humans 1.7 million years ago—a full 1.5 million years earlier than Asia's Peking man—and completely alters all ideas of our antiquity.

The average length of life of a Stone Age man was an estimated 20 years. Women probably began agriculture, and they still conduct it throughout most of the world. Then the city community arose around the altars of the seed-time sacrifices. The beginnings of urban civilization and the appearances of temples are simultaneous.

Yet it's strange that much remains irrational to this day—that so many people in deserts, for example, worship the sun, which is their enemy, instead of the rivers, which are their only hope. Moreover, it is not true that the world does not have space. We just do not use it as we must. Eighty per cent of the world's land contains less than 16 per cent of the population. More than half (57 per cent) of the people of the world live on less than five per cent of the Earth's surface.

There were still only about 500 million people in the world at the time of Queen Elizabeth. Even by the 17th century Britain had only one city with more than 30,000 population. A country like house like Audley End with its 750 rooms was comparable to a walled town. The population growth was cumulative. But the really rapid increase began only after World War I.

Thus while the existence of a population explosion is common knowledge its recent sudden timing is much less known. In fact, the story did not exist until a few years ago.

In Japan, where abortion is legal, there are now more abortions than births. But in Arab areas today women are averaging seven children apiece. World population is increasing by about 50 million a year. Experts forecast a six-billion population 25 years from now—300 million in the United States alone.

Larger proportion of our population than ever before is married. Our youth is marrying younger and raising larger families. The population has gone up more than 25 million since President Eisenhower entered the White House and another two million since President Kennedy succeeded him.

Approximately 650 million people live in China. One in every four persons in the world is Chinese. Chinese children under 15 today exceed the entire population of our country. By 1950, one baby will be Chinese No. one billion. By 35 years from now, barring accidents, half of the world's population will be Chinese.

Jawaharal Nehru states: "India's five-year plans have no meaning if our population grows at a rate that can never catch up with it." Pakistan's President Ayub Khan states: "If we continue to increase at the present rate it will ultimately lead to a standard of living little better than that of animals." For while immense progress in productivity is being made in many areas it is being wiped out by the accelerated velocity of reproduction.

Anything can come of this. The balance of this situation, totalitarianism, know that where there is no choice there is less anxiety and a release from responsibility that is appealing to many temperaments. This is a hard drag on what we call "mankind's will to be free." And red tyranny catches house like Audley End with its 750 rooms was comparable to a ing and by moving the bowls if a person has this disease, the treatment first tried consists of bed rest, a bland diet and antibiotics. With this treatment an acute attack usually clears up in a few days.

Routine use of enemas, strong purgatives and such drastic measures as removal of undigested vegetables and fruit must be avoided because they irritate the bowel and may cause recurrence. After a series of recurrences, a victim will develop chronic diverticulitis.

This is more difficult to treat. When it occurs, an operation may be necessary to prevent serious complications. Just as with diverticulitis, an inflamed diverticulum may rupture and cause peritonitis.

There is also some danger of hemorrhage from the inflamed area. An operation to remove this portion of the bowel often solves the problem. Yet, because of a large number of diverticuli usually present, no attempt can be made to remove them all.

Therefore, after the operation it is necessary to remain on a bland diet to prevent inflammation from developing in the diverticula that remain. A mild laxative or stool softener may be required to prevent the formation of hard stools.

Diverticulosis and diverticulitis are not cancerous, but they occur in an age group and in an anatomical location where cancer is common. For that reason your doctor must always be alert for signs of cancer in a person with diverticulitis.

There may be nausea and vomiting and there is always some pain in the region of the trouble. The pain is aggravated by jouncing.

ANALYSIS SHOWS SINGLETON LEAD
Once you have gotten into the habit of using the four letters of the word "Arch"—Analyze the lead, Review the bidding, Count tricks, Hold to make the contract—you can learn to perform the four operations together and in unlikely. He almost surely opened a singleton or doubleton and a little more thought should convince you that the lead was a singleton.

Few players would open a doubleton when they had a natural long suit lead.

Now you have analyzed the lead and reviewed the bidding. You count 10 winners and three losers provided you can make three winners and four losers if West can get in a diamond ruff.

Since you have decided that West's lead was a singleton you must take that first diamond and go after trumps.

If East has the ace of spades nothing is going to do you any good, but West has it and you wind up losing one spade, one heart and one diamond.

PROPER TECHNIQUE for mouth-to-mouth resuscitation is demonstrated on "Resusci-Anne," life-size plastic dummy now traveling throughout Idaho Power company's service area for employee training. Applying the relatively new life-saving method is C. W. Blatter, office supervisor of the utility's mobile construction crews. Looking on, from left, are W. G. Walstra, central division electrical superintendent, C. E. Capps, Boise district supervisor, and A. L. Sawyer, safety director. Sawyer said the inflatable dummy will be made available to public groups for demonstrations.

"Resusci-Anne" Is Dummy, But She Might Save Lives

A petite, blue-eyed blonde who may help save a life someday has gone to work for Idaho Power company, the utility's safety director reported Wednesday.

The attractive new "employee" is named "Resusci-Anne" and she's a life-size plastic doll whose job is to train Idaho Power men and women in the techniques of mouth-to-mouth and mouth-to-nose resuscitation, according to A. L. Sawyer.

"Anne" whose inflatable body expands and contracts realistically when air is breathed into her mouth or nose, was first used for training demonstrations in the Boise area and will have toured the company's four divisions and 16 generating plants by the end of this summer.

Sawyer said the doll, which folds up and fits into a suitcase for traveling, is being used "primarily" to provide instruction in the lifesaving techniques for such operating personnel as linemen and generating plant employees who are exposed to electrical and water hazards. However, the training also is being given to non-operating employees.

"We hope this 'stitch-in-time' instruction will prepare our employees to give qualified help in emergencies involving not only Idaho Power people, but the general public as well," explained Sawyer, who recently was elected president of the Idaho Safety Council.

Company linemen will continue to receive training in pole-top and arm-lift resuscitation, the safety director said.

However, the relatively new mouth-to-mouth and mouth-to-nose methods will be emphasized because they are more efficient, providing greater quantities of air to the victim and are less tiring.

"Anne" will be made available for demonstrations to public groups after she completes her first training tour of Idaho Power's system, according to Sawyer.

"However, it will be necessary for us to send along a qualified representative with her for public demonstrations," the safety director said. "You'd be surprised how complicated that job is."

NEW ORLEANS, April 2 (AP) — That old maxim about lightning never striking twice in the same place doesn't hold true as far as the twin double at Jefferson Downs race track is concerned.

Bitter Pill

NEW ORLEANS, April 2 (AP) — Mary Hamilton, a Negro woman who won the right to be called "Miss" in court, says the Southern custom of calling Negroes by their first names has been a bitter pill to swallow.

"To me," she said, "it has been a personal insult for another human being — a stranger — to feel that he has the liberty to address me in this undignified manner."

"I have resented it on a total racial basis, too," Miss Hamilton said in an interview.

The custom stems from the days of slavery when Negroes did not have a last name.

E. I. Shaw presented Norman Dille with a first class badge, and Dennis Peterson and Layne Hadlock, second class.

Shaw complimented the troop for its work of recent months, removing snow from the sidewalk west of the McFall hotel and the foot bridge over Little Wood river and the donation made to the high school locker fund.

M. J. Dille played musical numbers. Gary Larson was in charge of the meeting, with Paul Thomas and Fred Silva presenting the colors under direction of Norman Dille. Layne Hadlock and Randy Stoddard gave the prayers.

Salmon River Road Closed By Slide

SHOUP, April 2 — The Salmon River road has been closed by another snow slide. The route is blocked below Shoup at a point three miles up the river from the mouth of Panther creek.

Salmon national forest officials Wednesday said they would have to check the slide area to determine equipment needed to clear it. They said it probably would take several days.

Warm temperatures Tuesday brought the slide, which dropped off the mountain top bringing down trees and rock. It extends 100 feet and is 40 feet deep in places.

Fishermen use the salmon river road to reach the mouth of the middle fork of the Salmon river where steelhead are in their spring movement up the river.

Until the road can be cleared, fishermen can reach the river through Panther creek via the Williams creek road south of Salmon.

Rain fell in the area Wednesday, with snow at higher elevations.

Atom Power De-Salting Plan Noted

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—By 1970, large combined nuclear power-desalination plants could be pumping out low-cost water along the U. S. coast, a government task force said today.

Oceanographer Roger Revelle told a news conference that waste heat from the plants could be used to make unpleasantly cold ocean water comfortable for swimming.

Revelle was chairman of the task group, established by the president's office of science and technology to evaluate proposals from the Oak Ridge, Tenn., national laboratory that very large nuclear-electric power plants might be combined with water desalting plants to convert fresh water from sea water at relatively low cost.

Revelle said the technology now exists to produce fresh water from sea water in such huge plants at an estimated cost of 20 to 25 cents per 1,000 gallons. The cost of sea water conversion now is $1 to 1.50 per thousand gallons.

They already had six. And only a four-car garage.

But there was this 1932 Packard Twin-Six sports Phaeton sitting up on blocks in the garage down the street, and really they don't make them like that any more.

The fellow who owned it had gone out to California and wouldn't answer his mail, but eventually Dewey won both the owner and his own wife around, and added the car to his collection.

Dewey, who is head of the sociology department at the University of New Hampshire, drove the car through Times Square Wednesday on the way to the International Automobile show where it will be displayed along with 35 other classic automobiles, beginning Saturday.

The Packard is one of 16 cars voted as the most significant milestones in the history of the U.S. automobile.

Investment Firm Gets License

BOULDER, April 2—Idaho's first small business investment firm was granted a license to operate this week by the small business administration, government agency in Washington, D. C.

Receipt of the license to make equity investments in promising business ventures in the Gem state was announced today by J. Robert Tufts, local certified public accountant and president of the board of directors of the Industrial Investment Corporation. Home office for the company is in Boulder.

Other officers of the corporation are E. A. Liming, Boise, vice president; John Heworth, Buhl, secretary; Frank Gless, Buhl, treasurer. Directors are Zimmi Mills, Boise, and Ted Ahlm and Walter Olson, both Buhl. Stockholders in the corporation reside in Boise, Wendell, Buhl and Redwood City, Calif.

The corporation, under its license terms from the small business administration, supplies this capital to a maximum of $50,000 for a single business for a period of five years or longer.

The corporation is cleared through the securities and exchange commission of the federal government and operates under the small business investment act of 1958.

The new corporation has a financial structure of $150,000 in private capital plus matching funds of $150,000 in government money in the capital structure at five per cent interest with principal payable starting at the beginning of the tenth year. Also available is a $150,000 loan from SBA at five per cent interest with principal due starting at the end of five years.

Tufts noted that the investment corporation cannot gain controlling interest of any of its clients' operations unless the move is necessary to protect the corporation's money. Control, if exercised at any time, must be relinquished as soon as the operation is satisfactory again.

In the Magic Valley area, Frank Gless, Buhl, corporation treasurer, may be contacted for information by prospective clients, and in western Idaho and the Panhandle, E. A. Liming, Boise, corporation vice president, will work with prospective clients in preliminary surveys.

The first investment approved by the Industrial Investment Corporation directory was in the Sawtooth Valley corporation of Challis and Salmon. The firm is a land development corporation.

U.S.-Russia Can't Agree On Arms Plan

GENEVA, April 2 (AP)—The United States announced today it has been holding private talks with the Soviet Union on a possible agreement to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons.

American disarmament negotiator Adrian B. Fisher accused the Russians of blocking agreement by presenting political arguments against the projected multilateral nuclear force (MLF) for the North Atlantic Treaty organization (NATO).

Soviet chief negotiator Semyon Tsarapkin in a follow-up speech before the 12-nation disarmament conference, said the United States "prefers a nuclear alliance with the Bundeswehr (West German) army than to have an agreement on non-dissemination."

West German participation in the MLF has long been the target for communist propaganda attacks. "We have, as the disarmament committee knows, been discussing privately with the Soviet Union a proposed agreement on the non-dissemination of nuclear weapons," Fisher said.

These discussions have been between Fisher and his Soviet counterpart, Semyon K. Tsarapkin, in their private meetings as conference co-chairmen.

"There is general agreement that preventing the spread of nuclear weapons is an urgent matter," Fisher said. "But any effort is being made to cloud this issue with essentially political arguments against the projected multilateral force."

The Soviet Union charges that the MLF is merely an excuse for giving West Germany control over nuclear arms.

Fisher denied this claim and said the plans for MLF contain nothing contradictory to proposals for preventing the spread of nuclear weapons.

Private-Public Power Fight Thaw Forecast by Official

SPOKANE, Wash., April 2 (AP)—There are signs of a thaw in the fight between public and private electric power companies, a member of the federal power commission said here Wednesday, but he warned of continuing widespread fear and misunderstanding.

Commissioner David S. Black, addressing the northwest public power association, said "we still have the ugly magazine ads designed to instill fear and misunderstanding, and they are not the only elements obstructing the road to cooperation between the respective elements of the industry."

In Ohio, ground was broken recently for a new generating station which is being built jointly by the privately-owned Ohio Power company and Buckeye Power, Inc., a group of 30 public power utilities.

Black said experience in this venture will be watched carefully as a sign for the future.

Private Power Squabble, but Growth Forecast built principally for the adverse effect they might have on competing power systems. "This kind of power play, having as its purpose the destruction of one's competition, is the first thing which the industry must eliminate in the years ahead if it is truly to achieve the fulfillment of its public service responsibilities," Black said.

The commissioner said the real challenge of the future, however, is not the public versus private power squabble, but growth. In the soon-to-be-released national power survey, an attempt will be made to analyze the needs of growth, Black said.

During a morning session, Kenneth Holm, assistant secretary of the interior for power and water, predicted electric power lines will connect the Pacific Northwest and the Southwest. The power association represents Northwest states and British Columbia.

 Mrs. LaVern W. Parmley, president of the organization of over 400,000 children in the LDS church, directed the conference with the assistance of counselors Mrs. Leone W. Doxey and Mrs. Lucile C. Reading.
 The music of a 105-piece children's orchestra headed a procession of speakers, singers, and actors that began the two-day conference this morning.
 From the opening session, the

Bids Called to Build Meat Plant at Gooding

GOODING, April 2—Officers of the Gooding Industrial Development company, Inc., acting upon the recommendation of the executive board of the Stockmen's Meat Packing corporation, announced Tuesday afternoon they had voted to call for bids for construction of a modern beef and sheep kill plant to be erected on an 80-acre site four miles east of Gooding.
 Meeting with the group was Carl Swanson, Payette, engineer for the firm, and Charles C. Shaw, Gooding attorney.
 Bids for furnishing all labor, equipment and materials and for performing all work for construction of the plant must be received before 4 p.m. May 1 at the office of James Muffley, box 148, Gooding. Bids will be privately opened the same day, according to Leo Rice, Gooding, president of the Stockmen's Meat Packing corporation.
 Muffley says the plant will consist of approximately 30,000 square feet in a one-story cinder block plant building, 2,500 square feet of basement, 35,000 square feet of covered stock holding pens, and approximately two acres of sewage stabilization ponds, plus the installation of all processing equipment to be furnished by the corporation.
 Swanson states that the proposal and other data submitted by the bidders will form the basis of the negotiation of a lump sum contract for the work.

A deposit of $100 will be required to insure the return of the plans and specifications in good condition. The deposit should be in the form of a money order or certified check, made payable to Carl G. Swanson and delivered to the engineer. All plans and specifications must be returned to Swanson 15 days after the bid opening. A bid bond will be required.
 It is estimated total cost of the plant and equipment will be approximately $687,000. Rice reports the plant will be geared to kill 400 head of cattle and 3,000 sheep during an eight-hour shift. Approximately 60 employees will be required to run the facility.
 The plant will be built by Gooding Industrial Development company and turned over to the Stockmen's Meat Packing corporation under a lease-purchase arrangement.
 There are approximately 1,300 residents of Idaho who comprise the stockholders of the corporation.
 Officers are Rice, president; Robert E. Fields, Gooding, vice

Johnson, Hood Hold First Place In Doubles Event

Boxer Dies 18 Months After Fight

BUENOS AIRES, April 2 (AP)—Alejandro Lavarante, former Argentine heavyweight champion, died Wednesday in Mendoza as the result of a ring injury suffered more than a year and a half ago. He was 27.

Lavarante never fully recovered consciousness after a freak knockout by Johnny Riggin in Los Angeles on Sept. 21, 1962. He underwent three delicate brain operations, the first only hours after the knockout.

In time he learned to speak a few words, to walk from a wheelchair to his bed and to eat his food unaided. He was taken home to Rosario, Argentina, after eight months in a Los Angeles hospital and seemed to understand where he was going. But doctors never held out hope for his complete recovery.

The knockout by Riggin, a little known heavyweight from San Francisco, was the third suffered by Lavarante in six months. Before his first knockout defeat to Moore, Lavarante had beaten such fighters as Zora Foley, Willie Besmanoff, Alonzo Johnson and Von Clay in 1961 and was rated fifth in the heavyweight class.

Against Riggin, the 6-foot, 8-inch Lavarante seemed to be winning easily for four rounds. Late in the fifth, Riggin landed a solid right that made Lavarante hang on.

At the start of the sixth, Riggin landed two more rights and referee Tommy Hart quickly stopped the fight. Hart said Lavarante appeared to tire near the end of each round.

Moments after the knockout Lavarante slumped off his stool unconscious. He was taken to a nearby hospital where an operation was performed to remove a blood clot on his brain.

Later, when his temperature soared to dangerous heights, a 3-by-5 inch section of his skull was removed to relieve pressure. The piece bone was restored in a third operation after the brain swelling subsided.

Early in 1963 the boxer's father, Alejandro Lavarante, Sr., was permitted to take his son back to Argentina. The journey was made about three months later on June 30, after his parents had settled a claim for $9,878 in unpaid income taxes.

Arizona Star to Enroll at OSU
COLUMBUS, O., April 2 (AP)—Jim Dugan, three-sport star from Flagstaff, Ariz., high school, is going to enroll at Ohio State University. It was announced Wednesday.

The 6-foot, 1-inch, 205-pounder who runs the 100 in 9.8 gained 1,117 yards and scored 155 points in football last season—averaged 35 points a game in basketball, and is batting .714 in baseball so far this season.

Dugan plans to study dentistry.

SPARS FIVE
NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—Gregorio Peralta boxed five rounds Wednesday, two of them with a new sparring partner, as he stepped up preparations for his title fight with light heavyweight champion Willie Pastrano at New Orleans April 10.

Duren Says Phils' Staff Is too Deep

CLEARWATER, Fla., April 2 (AP)—"They've got so many pitchers around this camp, I'm afraid to give up a run or two," says the one-time New York Yankee flame-thrower, Ryne Duren.

So he hasn't. Duren now works for the Philadelphia Phillies, a club with possibly the deepest pitching staff in the National League.

Duren, who as a relief ace helped the Yankees to a couple of pennants not too long ago, has a spring earned run average of 0.00.

In plain English, that means he hasn't given up a run in seven innings of pitching.

The bespectacled right-hander can't see his nose in front of his face without the specs—worked one inning Tuesday against Cincinnati and faced three hitters—all out. He received credit for his first exhibition victory.

The veteran, who won six and lost two last year as the Phillies finished fourth, refuses to be complacent, despite his fine work.

"All I want," says the 35-year-old, "is to be here with the club when the season opens."

After Tuesday's game Duren commented, "Don't make a fuss over me. All I did was get three guys out."

One of the more colorful characters in baseball, Duren recalls he used to have a great slider when he was mowing them down for the Yankees. "But in the last few years," he adds, "it's been like the weather, good and bad."

Lorenzen Has Pole Position For Car Race

ATLANTA, April 2 (AP)—Fred Lorenzen grabbed the pole position Wednesday for the Atlanta 500 stock car race Sunday by setting a qualifying speed record of 146.470 miles per hour.

The Elmhurst, Ill., speedster, who has won the last two Atlanta 500s, captured his first pole position for the race with a 1964 Ford.

About 20 minutes prior to his qualifying run of four laps, Lorenzen almost lost his speed when he missed a straightaway wall by inches on the third turn, of the 1½-mile Atlanta International raceway. "I went in too deep and came out too strong," Lorenzen said.

"I could have gone a little faster but I guess I got a little shook up on that practice run and eased off a little bit."

A. J. Foyt, Houston, Tex., also in a 1964 Ford, was second with an average speed of 145.887 miles per hour. Paul Goldsmith of Mexico City, Mex., was third at 145.670 miles per hour in a 1964 Plymouth.

TRAPPED between second and third base, San Francisco Giants' first baseman Orlando Cepeda tries to elude Bobby Knoop (29), second baseman, and Billy Moran, third baseman, for the Los Angeles Angels after he was trapped during an exhibition game Wednesday in Phoenix, Ariz. Cepeda tried to stretch a double into a triple and was run down by Moran. Action took place in the fifth inning with the Angels winning 10-7. (AP wirephoto)

Braves Run Inter-League Streak to 10

By The Associated Press

Continuing the National League's domination of play during the exhibition season, the Milwaukee Braves won their 10th consecutive game from American League opposition Wednesday by riding Hank Aaron's fifth spring homer to a 5-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

The National League won three of five games with the American league on the day's program, building its edge to 2-1 in inter-league competition. National League teams have won 66 games, AL Clubs 33.

The Milwaukee victory lifted the Braves into the No. 1 spot in inter-league competition with a 10-1 record. The Braves lost their first game to Washington. The New York Yankees have the best record in the American League against NL opposition, 6-4.

Only one other club—the Chicago White Sox—has a .500 record. The remainder of the AL Clubs are below .500 against NL competition.

Only two NL teams are under .500 against the AL—Philadelphia and the Los Angeles Dodgers, who pulled their record to 4-5 by beating Minnesota 7-3 as Tommy Davis collected three hits.

Besides the Braves, the San Francisco Giants have an imposing record against AL teams. Despite a 10-7 defeat by the Los Angeles Angels, the Giants are 15-3 against the AL. Even the lowly New York Mets can handle AL opposition—they're 6-2.

The worst inter-league record belongs to Boston, defeated by the Chicago Cubs 8-7. The Red Sox are 4-11 against NL teams.

One other inter-league game was played Wednesday, with Baltimore blanking Pittsburgh 4-0 behind the combined two-hit pitching of Robin Roberts and Harvey Haddix.

In other games, the other half of the White Sox' split squad belted Washington 12-7, the

Brown Calls For Boxing Commission

LOS ANGELES, April 2 (AP)—Formation of a national boxing commission is being urged in a report to Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The commission, set up by congress, would set uniform national boxing standards and medical requirements, thus reducing the chance of ring injury, the report said.

The proposals were presented Tuesday night to Sol Silverman, Yankees got homers from Johnny Blanchard and Tony Kubek in a 4-2 victory over Detroit, the New York Mets shut out Cincinnati 3-0 behind Tracy Stallard's six-hitter and St. Louis edged Philadelphia 6-5 on Johnny Lewis' three-run homer.

"The Scotch they prefer in Scotland"

Brown's boxing adviser, by the medical and legal committees of the Southern California advisory committee on boxing safeguards.

"Uniformity is not only desirable," said the report, "it is necessary if we are to have national recognition of suspensions for cause and to prevent a boxer, who has been denied a license for physical reasons, from boxing in another state."

In addition to setting up national medical standards for boxing, the proposed commission also would make up "standards for training and physical fitness which would tend to reduce ring injuries."

The committee also urged creation of a permanent medical committee in California to set up medical regulations and standards for examination of boxers in California.

The advisory committees were made up of doctors, lawyers, judges, sportswriters and private citizens.

There will be two other meets Friday, one an open Big Eight State track and the other at Minico. The Big Eight, which will begin at 1 p.m., is scheduled for the Gooding high school track with the Gooding State open event the same afternoon. Firm Wants New Libel Suit Trial

NEWNAN, Ga., April 2 (AP)—A federal judge took under consideration Wednesday a Curtis Publishing company motion for a new trial in the libel judgment of $3.6 million dollars granted by a jury to Wally Butts, former Georgia football coach. U.S. Dist. Judge Lewis R. Morgan promised a ruling as soon as possible. Attorneys for Curtis based the motion on the claim that testimony of two key witnesses for Butts was false. They also cited a recent U.S. supreme court decision overturning an Alabama court ruling in a libel suit.

FROM ALL ANGLES

BY LARRY HOVEY

Although catching an albino trout is a once-in-a-lifetime happening for anglers and others who whip the water with less chance than that, seeing albinos is much easier.

When 15-year-old Janine Delap, Twin Falls, made such a catch she indeed did have something to remember.

Albinos are purely throwbacks although their incidence among fish seems more common than for other species. District fish biologist Stacy Gebhardt notes the last shipment of eggs to the state trout hatchery at Hagerman included an unusually large number of albinos. But there is a catch. The fish and game department usually separates these and very few are planted.

It isn't that the department feels the fish would do anything detrimental to the waters. It just likes to keep them around for show. People visiting the hatcheries like to see the oddities and the department likes to include one or two of its exhibits at fairs and other public functions.

Right now the Hagerman hatchery has quite a few albinos on hand. They are mostly young trout, running from 12 to 14 inches. They are there for inspection by the idle curious. But onlookers may be surprised as albinos are not always white. They have more of a golden hue but the pink eyes are plainly evident.

Since the vast majority of all trout caught have their origin in a manmade raceway and since the albinos are separated at the hatcheries, your chances of acquiring the feat of Miss Delap are considerably less than they might be.

Gebhardt reports that the department currently is studying the feasibility of installing an electrical fish barrier on the south fork of the Boise River at Pine. If the cost, plan and everything gets an official okay, the barrier will serve two purposes.

Gebhardt is hopeful of getting the barrier into operation within the next few weeks, prior to high water, so as to trap fish suckers in particular—can be weaned immediately.

Immediate success would throw a second plan into operation, one that would have a bearing on the trash fish population in Anderson reservoir. If the first barrier works out, a second permanent type will be installed along with traps that would allow the department to take the trash fish out of the reservoir and destroy them. The method would not entirely eliminate the trash fish problem in the reservoir but it could only help.

The second purpose of the plan would be establishment of a kokanee run. The same trap could be used to catch spawners, milk them of spawn and help establish a self-sustaining run of the landlocked salmon.

The department always looking for new ways of maintaining close wildlife management, will start sending its fish biologists underwater for study. All biologists will attend a special skin diving clinic at Lava Hot Springs next week.

Broussard Wins Four Features

MIAMI, Fla., April 2 (AP)—Jockey Ray Broussard won four races at Gulfstream park Wednesday in addition to finishing second with the 20-1 shot Lady Karachi in the featured Suanne River handicap.

Broussard won the second race on Squirrel Hill; the fourth aboard Gold Creek; the eighth with Flying Johnnie and the 10th on Winter Art.

Broussard now has ridden 24 winners at the meeting and is in third place behind Walter Blum who has 29, and Jacinto Vasquez, who has 26.

FORCED TO WITHDRAW

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 2 (AP)—Ralph Boston, Olympic broad jump champion, joined the field for the first Kentucky relays Wednesday, then said a groin injury made him unable to withdraw from the meet scheduled Saturday at Lexington.

Big O Injury, Lucas Slumps

BOSTON, April 2 (AP)—Oscar Robertson's throbbing if unbroken right wrist and the Jerry Lucas mystery haunt Cincinnati, already one down to the Boston Celtics in the National Basketball association playoffs.

Robertson, most valuable player of the NBA, canceled plans Wednesday for X-rays of the wrist from which he launched his brilliant performance in the first round of the best-of-seven Eastern division finals Thursday night.

Catch Red Auerbach, whose Celtics seek their eighth straight division playoff crown, has a headache of his own. It's a pulled hamstring muscle on the right leg of co-captain Frank Ramsey.

Ramsey, retiring next month, hurt his leg in an Easter workout and aggravated it shortly after entering Tuesday night's 103-87 victory over the Royals.

"We missed Ramsey," Red said. "We need him in this type of game and against this type of team. It's got me plenty worried. Ramsey's value is that when we're just standing around out there he gets us running again."

"If we win this game and go back home with a split we'll be all right," said Cincinnati coach Jack McMahon. "But we don't have much future unless Lucas can break out of his slump. The whole pattern of our team is based on his rebounding."

"I don't know what's wrong with him. He tells me he's hurt at the base of the spine. I don't know what to expect of him."

"If we win this game and go back home with a split we'll be all right," said Cincinnati coach Jack McMahon. "But we don't have much future unless Lucas can break out of his slump. The whole pattern of our team is based on his rebounding."

"I don't know what's wrong with him. He tells me he's hurt at the base of the spine. I don't know what to expect of him."

Big O Injury, Lucas Slumps

BOSTON, April 2 (AP)—Oscar Robertson's throbbing if unbroken right wrist and the Jerry Lucas mystery haunt Cincinnati, already one down to the Boston Celtics in the National Basketball association playoffs.

Robertson, most valuable player of the NBA, canceled plans Wednesday for X-rays of the wrist from which he launched his brilliant performance in the first round of the best-of-seven Eastern division finals Thursday night.

Catch Red Auerbach, whose Celtics seek their eighth straight division playoff crown, has a headache of his own. It's a pulled hamstring muscle on the right leg of co-captain Frank Ramsey.

Ramsey, retiring next month, hurt his leg in an Easter workout and aggravated it shortly after entering Tuesday night's 103-87 victory over the Royals.

"We missed Ramsey," Red said. "We need him in this type of game and against this type of team. It's got me plenty worried. Ramsey's value is that when we're just standing around out there he gets us running again."

Mazeroski Is Dropped in Bat Lineup

PORT MYERS, Fla., April 2 (AP)—Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh is dropping second baseman Bill Mazeroski to the eighth spot in the batting order hoping to lift the Pirates out of eighth place in the National League.

"We like him hitting down lower in the batting order," explained Murtaugh, "because we feel he can do an important job for us there. In my book the fourth and eighth spots in the order are almost the same. The fifth, sixth and seventh men get on a lot and someone has to drive them in."

"Bill's got good power. And he'll be in a spot where the eighth spot he drove in about 80 runs for us."

That was in 1962, when Mazeroski hit .271 with 14 homers and 31 runs batted in. Last year was a different story for Mazeroski. Five-time All-Star second baseman who had leg trouble and hit only .215 with eight homers and 52 RBI. At the time he was forced out of the line-up he was the club's clean-up hitter and leading RBI producer.

"He just wasn't the same when he tried to play again," said Murtaugh. "He was out for almost a month and he was told no exercise whatever. He allowed himself to get heavy and he couldn't keep his legs in shape without exercise."

"It felt like spring training all over again," said Mazeroski. "I lost my timing. I lost everything."

"What really hurt last year was that I got off to an unusually good start," he said. "What I really like this year would be to play a full year—and have the same kind of first half."

"I feel good enough to do it."

Girl Picks Winning Ticket

LONDON, April 2 (AP)—Ten men shared $12,000 among them Wednesday, thanks to a 16-year-old girl.

The money came from a winning one penny—1.6 cents—bet on the British soccer pools.

They were searching for the team to name on the coupon Arthur Drain, a 37-year-old bachelor, suggested: "Let Brenda pick the teams out with a pin."

So Brenda—Brenda Van Leer, Drain's 16-year-old niece—stabbed away with the pin.

Result: a winning ticket for $12,000.

Engineer Is Speaker for Declo Club

DECLO, April 2 — Glen Simons, chief of river control and storage division of the Minidoka project, gave an illustrated talk on the Snake river projects at the Declo Kiwanis club luncheon meeting Monday at Min's cafe.

He told when the different dams were built, the amount of acre feet each holds and the water rights of each project along the river from Yellowstone park to Milner dam.

He said each year presents different problems in regulating the storage because of the variance in the runoff.

Gordon Cox, president of the Twin Falls Kiwanis club, reported on progress being made in arranging for Charles A. (Nick) Swain, president of Kiwanis International, to speak at the Twin Falls armory in conjunction with the district convention there. It will be his only appearance in Idaho.

Robert Fuqua led the pledge and Lovell Turner gave the invocation.

Letter From Alaska Tells Of Damages

RICHFIELD, April 2 — Mrs. Lucy Wilson Tuesday received a letter from her daughter, Mrs. James (Faye) Crockett, Anchorage, Alaska. Mrs. Crockett had tried to contact her mother and Mrs. Wilson was also unsuccessful in trying to learn anything about her daughter and family since the Friday earthquake. Mrs. Wilson had contacted the Red Cross as well as telephone calls.

Mrs. Crockett wrote the letter on Sunday and it was postmarked in Seattle Monday. She stated they were fortunate in that their house was unharmed except for dish and glass breakage of loose articles. Her older son, Lonnie, 16, had just left the Penney building before the first quake. Another son, Blade, 14, was delivering papers.

Several inches of water covered Mrs. Crockett's kitchen floor from a tub in the utility room, and some paint thinner broke and mixed with it, but the chief discomfort was caused from no heat or utilities for more than 24 hours after the earthquake, she wrote.

The Crocketts live about four miles from downtown Anchorage. Crockett, who is in the insurance business, has a downtown office but was at home late Friday afternoon. The high school, which the boys attend, was demolished. The Crocketts have four other children, one a 7-month-old son.

Mrs. Crockett stated their utilities had been restored and she baked bread, which had been ready for the oven when the earthquake came, 24 hours later. Regular mail service was to resume Tuesday, she said.

Mr. and Mrs. Crockett are former Halley residents and have lived in Alaska for 12 years.

Former Paul Man Hurt in Mishap

PAUL, April 2 — Leo Olsen, former Paul resident, now of Salt Lake City, is reported in critical condition in the Valley hospital, Provo, Utah, as the result of a car accident, it was learned here today.

Olsen moved to Salt Lake City about a year ago, had lived in Paul for many years. His wife also was injured in the accident, which occurred last Saturday. She received leg injuries but was released Monday.

Their daughter, Mrs. Thomas Rutledge, Provo, received an arm injury.

Pocatello to Host Church Conventions

POCATELLO, April 2 (Special) —The 65th annual assembly of the Christian churches (Disciples of Christ) of southern Idaho will be held April 9-11 at the Central Christian church, Pocatello.

John L. Welch, an elder of the First Christian church, Boise, and member of the official board, is president of the assembly.

A special feature of the convention will be a series of workshop sessions for the state functional departments of Christian action and community service, Christian education, evangelism, membership, stewardship and finance, world outreach and worship.

The assembly will include messages by A. T. DeGroot, professor of Bible Divinity school, the Disciples seminary, Texas Christian university, Fort Worth, Tex.; Dr. Russell A. Dettch, national director of evangelism for the United Christian Missionary society, Indianapolis, Ind.; Albert F. Bunney, manager of Bethany bookstore, Los Angeles; and Mrs. Mary M. Dale, executive secretary of the department of home mission ministries of the United Christian Missionary society, a major agency of the Christian churches (Disciples of Christ).

A record attendance, representing the 24 Christian church congregations in southern Idaho with more than 9,000 members, is anticipated.

Mrs. Robinson Is Best Weight Loser of Month

RICHFIELD, April 2 — Mrs. Carl Robinson won the March best weight loser of the month title for the Diet Does It club at the Monday afternoon meeting at the home of Mrs. Ross Swainston.

Mrs. Swainston received a treasure chest gift as best loser of the week and Mrs. Lester Johansen was given the reminder symbol.

The club tabulated a 21-pound loss and 32-pound gain for the month, to spark a new reducing contest with each member contributing five cents each week for a prize fund at the end of three months.

First place winner, or best loser, will receive two-thirds of the fund, and second place or runner-up will get one-third of the amount. Third place winner will receive a treasure chest gift.

Mrs. Bruce Sorensen and Mrs. Lyle Deeds each donated a gift as added incentive for the two top prize winners. The contest with the Carey Diet club is continuing to June 1.

April meetings will be held at the home of Mrs. Johansen. Mrs. Robert Langston is a new member.

Lines Rebuilt
FAIRFIELD, April 2 — Crews and equipment of the Idaho Power company are engaged in rebuilding power lines in Games prairie. At present new poles and lines are being put in at the intersection of highway 68 and Main street in Fairfield.

Johnson Cuts Communications With GOP

WASHINGTON, April 2 (UPI) — President Johnson has cut off direct communications with Republican congressional leaders in possible defiance of their criticism of his foreign policy course.

Not since he asked them to the White House Jan. 29 to participate with Democratic colleagues in a discussion of the Panama crisis has the President talked to either Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois or House GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana.

This provides sharp contrast with Johnson's demonstrated devotion in the first critical weeks of his presidency to court Republican support for his actions.

In that period, the President often called Dirksen on the phone a half dozen times a day, summoned him to the White House frequently and talked over with him many of the legislative and other problems that were arising.

When an anonymous White House source criticized Halleck in December for blocking speedy house action on the foreign aid bill, Johnson had Halleck in for lunch. He apologized for this attack.

Now, however, the phones have gone silent and the White House invitations, informal and otherwise, have ceased.

Dirksen and Halleck are inclined to attribute the two months' hiatus in communications to the fact that it is a presidential election year. Their attitude is that they can get along very well without being consulted by a Democratic chief executive.

Highly placed Democrats are convinced that developments at and since the Jan. 29 meeting have convinced Johnson that the Republicans intend to try to make political capital out of his troubles in Panama and elsewhere.

The meeting was described by participants as disappointing, so far as it concerned development of any unity of opinion on the Panama situation.

Subsequently, Dirksen and Halleck have been hammering away in GOP leadership statements at Johnson's handling of Panama and other international matters.

This was the sort of political barrage the late President John F. Kennedy used to take in stride.

Kennedy established a pattern of ringing up Dirksen a couple of times a week and inviting him to come by for a late afternoon drink in these sessions, the President tried out some of his ideas on Dirksen.

"Once in a while I would tell him, 'Mr. President, if you do that I'll get up on the senate floor and denounce you from stem to stern,'" Dirksen said.

Now, however, the laughter seems to have died out of presidential relations with the opposition in congress.

"Rawhide," (6 p.m. CBS) — A bank president and trail boss on Favor trade jobs and, while Favor may not know much about banking, the banker can't even ride a horse.

"Twilight Zone," (7:30 p.m. CBS) — Tonight's drama centers around a village where the sun fails to rise on the day of execution for a young man convicted of murder on perjured testimony in "I Am the Night, Color Me Black."
"Suspense Theater," (Color, 8 p.m. NBC) — Charles McGraw, Robert Ridgely and Barbara Turner are starred in "Once Upon a Savage Night," in which police race against time to capture a maniacal killer whose escape route coincides with that of an approaching presidential motorcade.
